How did the Fund perform for the last six months?

The year began optimistically with global recovery signs, but inflation, geopolitical tensions, and central bank actions introduced volatility. Large-cap US growth drove an outsized proportion of overall returns led by the technology sector. Short-term interest rates remained flat while long-term rates were volatile as economic data was released. Alternative assets provided diversification. We will continue to seek growth opportunities while prioritizing capital preservation in potentially volatile conditions.

How did the Fund perform since inception?

The WesMark Tactical Opportunity Fund Fund returned 8.20% for the 12 months ended June 30, 2024. This is in contrast to the HFRI Fund of Funds Index, which had a 4.30% return for the same time period. Please see below tables for additional indexes.
